eCOI is an electronic disclosure system intended to fulfill the University reporting obligations of faculty, staff, and student employees who engage in outside activities or who have financial interests that could create a real or perceived conflict of interest and/or conflict of commitment.

The disclosure system consolidates the information needed by the following University offices:

1. Conflict of Interest in Research Office in the Office of the Vice President for Research and Economic Development - conflict of interest related to research

2. Conflict of Interest in Research Office on behalf of the Office of the President - Institutional conflict of interest

3. Provost Office and University Human Resources – conflict of interest in the workplace and conflict of commitment

4. Conflict of Interest Office in the Joint Office for Compliance at UI Health Care - conflict of interest and commitment related to clinical care and purchasing decisions at the Hospital

5. Continuing Medical Education Division of the College of Medicine - conflict of interest related to accredited continuing medical education programs

After you have indicated that you have no applicable financial interests with outside entities or other personal considerations related to your University responsibilities:

1. The next step is to complete follow up questions regarding additional Personal Consideration(s) if you are faculty.

DISCLOSURE REPORTS

What is a Disclosure Report?

A Disclosure Report is the form used to report financial interests with non-University of Iowa entities or other personal considerations. The Report uses “smart form” technology – based on how you answer certain questions, additional questions may appear on the form. A separate Disclosure Report must be completed for each financial interest or non-UI entity with which you have a financial interest.

Do I need to submit a Disclosure Report?

You should submit a Disclosure Report if you have a financial interest with an outside entity when the entity is related to your University responsibilities or if you are a University Official. Please see the eCOI Overview page for the full definitions of “entity,” “University responsibilities” and “University Official.”

When should I submit a Disclosure Report?

Initially, you will submit any Disclosure Reports as part of your disclosure process before you complete your Annual Certification. As part of your Annual Certification process, you will complete additional Personal Consideration questions prior to submitting your Annual Certification. For the full definition of “Personal Consideration,” please see the eCOI Overview page.

After your Annual Certification is complete, you must submit new or revise any current Disclosure Reports within 30 days of acquiring a new or changed financial interest with an outside entity.

What information do I need to gather before I begin completing a Disclosure Report?

Tax records from the previous calendar year may be helpful, since you will be asked how much compensation you received from the entity, including travel expenses, income from dividends or the sale of stock, and income from licensing or royalties.

If you are involved in research (non-PHS or PHS-funded), and/or hold a faculty position, and/or are a P&S staff member at pay level 7 or above, you will be asked about the value of stock ownership in the entity for both you and your immediate family members (spouse, domestic partner, or dependent children) as well as compensation your family members received from the entity.

In addition, you should have last year’s appointment calendar available as you complete a Disclosure Report. That is because if you are involved in any PHS-funded research, you must report the total number of days and destination of any sponsored or reimbursed travel. And if you are a faculty member or a P&S staff member at pay level 7 or above, you will be asked about the number of business days you engaged with this entity.
How do I submit a Disclosure Report?

1. You will be routed to a Disclosure Report form if you review the screening questions on the eCOI Overview page and choose Continue.
